ORCHARD CITY GRANGE

Interesting Meeting with Reports from the Napa Convention—Members Report Improved Homes

Orchard City Grange held an important and enjoyable meeting on Tuesday evening of this week, about eighty members being present. After the usual business of the grange was completed, Worthy Master Bohnett gave an interesting report of the meeting of the California State Grange at Napa Oct. 4th to 7th inclusive. Under the head of woman's work Mrs. Wilson read an interesting paper.

After recess Mrs. Shaw read a humorous poem and Robert Scholz played two selections on the violin accompanied by Mrs. Scholz on the piano. This being the night when the members were expected to report the results of their efforts during the past six months in making improvements in and about their homes an interesting hour was spent listening to the many reports, as nearly every member present responded. So much interest was felt in this matter that another trial will be had next year. After closing the Grange the members marched to the banquet hall where a surprise awaited them in the profuse decorations. A large shock of corn occupied the center of the room, with pumpkins and grinning Jack's lanterns. Autumn leaves and red apples were freely used in decorating; the latter also playing a prominent part in the banquet. Mrs. Waite acted as toastmaster and called out a number of happy remarks from several members, principally from some who had not been with us for a long time.

During the month of November a class will be initiated into the mysteries of the order ending with the harvest feast November 22nd.

"Ain't He de Limit!"

Mr. David John Henry Allen Zamboss Swackhammer, Jr., called at the Press office Thursday. He delivered an address to the high school students on Uncle Sam's work in the Philippines and also gave a lesson in rice planting. Mr. Swackhammer was once a cannibal in Hayti and has not tasted a missionary for many years. The gentleman says he has been around the world thirteen times. After calling at this office several times and not finding the editor in he said "Ain't he de limit!" And that's what we thought of his name.

Local and Personal

Claude Buttrick was home over Sunday.

Miss Harriet Clark spent the weekend in Oakland.

E. C. Merrill spent Sunday in Oakland with his wife and baby.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Hanger are spending the week at Seabright.

Miss Cynthia Bersinger is spending the month with friends in Santa Cruz.

Ladies' hair work, working up combings. MRS. A. W. ADAMS, Dillon Ave.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Rucker came home Tuesday from an extended visit in Oakland.

Mrs. R. A. Logan and Mrs. A. Truax of Santa Clara, spent Tuesday with Mrs. A. J. Farley.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hinde enjoyed a short visit to San Francisco the latter part of last week.

LOST—Small, lady's purse containing money. Finder please return to Press Office and receive reward.

The "Political Equality Club," of Campbell will meet Friday at 2 p. m., at the home of Mrs. Fablinger.

The San Jose Normal boys defeated the C. U. H. S. boys' basketball team by the score 16 to 15 Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. L. B. Sadler has returned home after a pleasant visit in Berkeley with her granddaughter Mrs. R. W. Olson (nee Nelson).

The W. C. T. U. will hold a Convention Echo meeting at the home of Mrs. Merrill on Wednesday, November 2nd, at 2:30 o'clock.

Knitting and crochet work and other practical and fancy lines of work. Orders will receive prompt attention.

MRS. A. W. ADAMS, Dillon Ave.

Miss Birdie Williams came home from the city last Monday. She will be here until her mother, who fell and hurt herself badly about two weeks ago, is able to be around again.

The Press office has just added a new line of artists' materials such as oil and water color paints and brushes, hand painted china and decorated motto post cards. Call and see them.

The Womens' Club met last Monday. Miss Beaver, the sister of G. L. Beaver, has just returned recently from Mexico and she spoke to the club on the general subject "Mexico." This is the subject of the club's study since September and was especially interesting to them. The "Pandita Circle" of Sunny Oaks was invited. There were about forty ladies present. After the address light refreshments were served.

The Ladies' Aid of the M. E. Church met with Mrs. J. C. Ainsley on Thursday afternoon. The main business of the meeting was to elect officers for the coming year. The following ladies were elected to the different offices: Mrs. Anna Hayes, president; Mrs. J. C. Ainsley, vice president; Mrs. P. G. Keith, secretary; Mrs. C. E. Hanger, treasurer. Mr. Wilson met with the ladies and they made many plans for work in the coming year.

The Supreme Court is supposed to give all litigants a fair deal. The election of Judge Sloss will make that theory a fact so far as he is concerned. Vote for him.

HIGH SCHOOL ACTIVITIES

Senior Party—Mrs. Robson Entertains for Miss Blenkinsop before Her Return to England

The Seniors held their first party of the year at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. O. Curry. The spacious lawn was prettily decorated with lanterns and on it and on the wide veranda, many games were played. Good refreshments were served at a late hour.

By special arrangement with the Associated Students of Stanford University two copies of the Daily Palo Alto are sent daily to school to be posted on the bulletin board for the use of the students. The students are doing this in a large number of preparatory schools and hope to advertise the school and stimulate interest in college activities in so doing.

The first issue of the Oriole appeared Monday morning. There are two good stories and two sketches. The usual departments are well written up by the new staff and there is a good supply of jokes. Great credit is due Russell Downing, the manager, for the number of advertisements he has secured. The number is quite large, being composed of thirty-two pages and altogether a very creditable effort.

On Thursday, the 13th., delegates from three of the four schools in the I. A. U. met and arranged a girls' and boys' basket ball schedule. Campbell is to play Mountain View during the week ending November 12th., on the home grounds. If we win, we are to play the winner of the Live Oak-Los Gatos game (held in the same week) at the Normal Court, San Jose, on Thanksgiving Day. The girls' schedule begins in February and follows the same plan.

Mr. and Mrs. Robson pleasantly entertained the Seniors and a few others at their home on First street Monday night. The affair was in honor of Miss Dolly Blenkinsop who was in the class last year and is soon to leave for England. Some delightful new games were introduced and enjoyed, and after partaking of dainty refreshments, the guests departed, wishing Miss Blenkinsop "Good-bye" and "Bon Voyage."

False Charges

Campbell, California, Oct. 28, 1910.

Whereas word has come to us from two or three sources that a report is being most industrially circulated to the effect that the two churches of Campbell, i. e., the Methodist and Congregational, together with the W. C. T. U. of this place, combined to raise a campaign fund of $100 for Mr. Williams, candidate for Supervisor for this district. And that the $100 was paid to him, he using the same to purchase votes:—

We therefore representing the parties above named in the report, deny it most emphatically. Neither of the churches above mentioned, nor the W. C. T. U. of Campbell, have individually or together, contributed any amount large, or small for the purpose reported.

The report is not true in any particular, and we take great pleasure in denying it in toto.

Signed,

For the W. C. T. U.,

MRS. W. W. STEWART, President.

For the M. E. Church,

JOHN F. WILSON, Pastor.

For the Congregational Church,

GEO. E. ATKINSON, Pastor.

M. C. Sloss is the peer of any judge on the Supreme Bench. Vote for him.

Farewell Reception Given in Honor of Miss Dolly Blenkinsop

On Wednesday evening the Christian Endeavorers of the Congregational church, with many invited friends, enjoyed a farewell reception to Miss Dolly Blenkinsop in the parlors of the Congregational church. The evening was a jolly one, being spent in playing lively and entertaining games.

About half after ten the refreshment committee summoned the guests and the Endeavorers to a large banquet in the back rooms of the church. Rev. Geo. E. Atkinson was the toastmaster of the evening. Several responded to his commands cheerfully and willingly. Miss Winnie Fablinger, President of the Christian Endeavor Society, presented Miss Dolly, in behalf of the Endeavorers, a birthday book of Shakespeare's verses. Miss Dolly's sincere words of thanks showed her appreciation and the love she had for her many friends who were present. Just before leaving "Auld Lang Syne" was sung.

Miss Blenkinsop has been with us five years, coming here from England. All through her high school life she has been known and loved as one of the most loyal and enthusiastic members of Campbell high school.

Miss Blenkinsop leaves today for England. The best wishes of the whole community go with her on her trip.

Paragraphs Selected With a View to Giving Busy Readers the News in a Nutshell.

San Francisco.—The officers and men at the Presidio are still fearful that a general quarantine will be declared for diphtheria, as several new cases have broken out.

Vacaville.—The almost skeletonized body of a Japanese was found hanging from the upper limbs of an oak tree by Clayton Wenimer of this city in the Blue mountains, eight miles west of Vacaville.

Fresno.—The Rev. Thomas Boyd, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Fresno, was elected Moderator of the Synod of California and Nevada. The Rev. John T. Wills, D. C., is the retiring Moderator.

Seattle.—Officers of the Puget Sound navy yard are looking into the feasibility of constructing a floating drydock to accommodate the largest battleships now planned. When Secretary of the Navy Meyer was here he spoke in favor of a floating drydock and asked the officers of the yard to investigate.

Porterville.—Much the earliest in history is the orange picking this year, which was commenced the first of the week. The fruit is being shipped also, though not in large quantities. Picking will be quite general all over the district next week, and by the last of the week all of the packing houses will be running full time.

Berkeley.—Natural papyrus, formed through the dissolution of grape leaves and other foliage by some natural chemical agency, has been received at the University of California, and if a series of investigations now contemplated are successful a new and valuable formula for the manufacture of paper may be added to the knowledge of science.

San Bernardino.—Edward Hicklein, aged 81 and Mrs. Betty Hicklein, 55, were married here. The bride was the widow of the groom's step-brother, coming here from Texas for the ceremony. Hicklein, as the ceremony was performed, handed his bride $10,000 and the Justice $100. This was the sixth venture into matrimony for the aged groom, who is a wealthy resident of Pomona.

Fresno.—The corner stone of the Masonic Temple, now in course of construction in this city, has been set in place with impressive ceremonies. The stone was laid by Grand Master Dana R. Weller of Los Angeles, after Grand Chaplain T. B. H. Anderson had led in prayer, the ceremony being directed by Grand Treasurer A. B. Clark. An address was also made by Junior Grand Warden H. Z. Austin.

San Francisco.—Large shipments of canned goods are being sent north by the regular lines of steamers. A total of 33 carloads of canned goods and general merchandise consigned to points in British Columbia and for re-shipment at Seattle for points in Idaho and Montana was taken by two vessels. At the same wharves a half dozen coasters were loading shipments of cement and building material for points in the north.

Portland.—Oregon will be well represented at the meeting in San Francisco, November 17, of the Associated Chambers of Commerce to advance the movement for a Pacific Coast fleet. "This will be a most important meeting," said Secretary Giltner of the Portland Chamber of Commerce. "Oregon is especially interested in the movement for better coast protection. There is no doubt but that this State will be well and ably represented at the meeting."

Los Angeles.—Damages of $11,127—one of the largest amounts ever awarded in a personal injury case in the courts of this county—were given by a jury in the Superior Court to J. J. Mulholland in his suit against the Western Gas Construction Company. Mulholland was a mechanic installing new machinery. While working about a "scrubber" there was an explosion that almost killed Mulholland. Portions of his skull several inches square that were taken out were introduced as exhibits in the case. Mulholland sued for $25,000.

THE "AMERICA" FAILS TO REACH ITS DESTINATION

Wellman Claims Record for Time in Air and Distance Traveled.

New York.—The great dirigible balloon America, carrying its crew of six, under the guidance of Walter Wellman, which left Atlantic City last week in an effort to cross the Atlantic ocean, fell far short of its destination. The flight was a most wonderful one and the escape from death of the parties aboard almost miraculous. The huge craft was in the air seventy-one hours and the distance traveled was 780 miles. The equibrator, a sort of drag which was pulled through the sea, was responsible for the failure, says Wellman. Yet the shifting of the winds carried the balloon at pleasure against the working of the motor. They went north 280 miles and then drifted southward 500 miles, and were picked up by the steamship Trent about 150 miles due west from Cape Hatteras on the Florida coast.

Stock Streams With Fish and Game.

Willows.—Plans have been completed by the Government reclamation service to stock the streams of water emptying into the East Park reservoir with black and striped bass and other fish, and water fowl and game birds will be imported and turned loose on the waters of the reservoir. The fowl and birds will be protected from hunters, the intention of the Government being to establish a large preserve and breeding place for ducks and other game. The work of stocking the streams will begin at an early date, and it is proposed that the opening of next year's season will find the waters of the East Fork reservoir well filled with fish and fowl of all kinds.

Much Money in Old Clothes.

Poughkeepsie.—Mrs. James Connelly, of this city, because of her dislike for litter in the streets, picked up an old skirt which was fluttering around in the wind and was about to consign it to an ash heap, when a roll of $800 in bills dropped from its folds. The money which came to her in such a surprising manner, Mrs. Connelly surmised, after a little reflection, belonged to a neighbor, Mrs. Margaret Maher, who was burned out a few days ago, and whose household belongings, including the old skirt, were carried out of doors.

Several Hundred Acres of Worms.

New York.—The raising of silkworms is to be undertaken on a large scale by English capitalists at Great River, L. I., a suburb of New York. The United States Government, through the Department of Agriculture, will go to unusual length to make the enterprise a success. A tract of several hundred acres near the Vanderbilt Idle Hour estate is to be the scene of the experiments. The planting of the mulberry trees will begin next spring.

Fatally Burned With Acids.

San Francisco.—Mistaking a bottle of carbolic acid for one of hair shampoo in a lavatory of the Relief Home, Mrs. Dora Singer, aged 72 years, had her head and back badly burned by the poisonous fluid, and died a few hours later. Her age, and the fact that she was in delicate health, however, gave the poison a chance to work into her system, and she was unable to rally from the shock.

The Cheapest Kind of a Coffin.

Denver.—"Be sure I am dead. Then bury me in the cheapest pine box you can find and dress me in my old clothes. My wife and babies need every cent they have." This was the pathetic note left by William H. Bailey, 36 years old, a cigar maker suffering from tuberculosis, and who fired a bullet into his brain at a hotel here. Sixty-seven cents was found in his pocket.

Confessed to Undervaluation.

New York.—It is announced by the Customs Collector that several thousand dollars will be added to the revenues of the Government here shortly as a result of settlements with prominent importers who have within the last few weeks confessed to undervaluation of dutiable merchandise entered at this port.

Arizona Running Up Her List.

Washington.—The population of the territory of Arizona is 204,354, according to statistics of the thirteenth census made public last week. This is an increase of 81,423 or 66.2 per cent over the 1900 population, which was 122,931. Arizona's population increased 40,550, or 68 per cent from 1890 to 1900.

Postal Receipts on the Increase.

San Francisco.—Postal receipts for September were $201,780. This shows an increase of $23,334 over the corresponding month of last year. New Orleans' receipts for the month were $28,415.

Vote to Help California Win Panama-Pacific Fair!

If you believe in the future of California, if you value her good name among the nations, if you desire to aid in her advancement, vote for Senate constitutional amendment number 52, which provides a State tax of $5,000,000 for an international exposition to be held in San Francisco in 1915. Louisiana and California are contending for the honor of celebrating the completion of the Panama canal, and the Pacific coast has announced that America's rejoicing should be held on the shores of the ocean that benefits so greatly from the cleaving of the continents. Let the Pacific coast State that has undertaken to carry the burden of the fair do so in a worthy way!

The State's most prominent men have given time and money to the exposition project. From the southern line to the Oregon boundary they have demonstrated how willing they are to work for the glory of the far western coast. In December, when Congress will pass the official decision upon the rival cities, hundreds of these men will be back at Washington, ready to go before the nation's representatives and plead for California.

But they will not go, they will stay with their shame in California and allow the prize to be plucked by Louisiana, if the people of the State do not show the world that they are heartily behind the exposition idea. California has said, and in a voice that all the world can hear and has heard, that she will go to Washington with double the money, and more, than Louisiana will bring to back her claim to exposition honors. California can make every word of that promise come true. It is her duty to do so.

The people of the State living outside the boundaries of San Francisco need not concern themselves with Assembly constitutional amendment number 33, for that merely gives San Francisco permission to bond herself for $5,000,000 to turn into the exposition fund. Mark a "yes" after that, and turn your attention to Senate amendment number 52, the State tax measure. San Francisco, with her assessment of three-quarters of a billion, will, with the railroads, pay more than one million dollars of that sum too. Only four million dollars will be the sum that the balance of the State will have to carry. And that will be spread over a period of four years, at a rate of less than five cents on the hundred dollars of assessment.

The Times Dynamiters Known A Woman In the Case

Los Angeles.—The hunt for the conspirators who dynamited and destroyed the building and plant of the Los Angeles Times has been again transferred from San Francisco to Los Angeles. Attorney Rogers and Detective S. L. Brown, together with the other men working on the case with them, are all reticent regarding their purpose here, although it was admitted they had come here to follow up clues picked up in San Francisco. They were sanguine of the ultimate capture of the guilty men.

"From a legal standpoint we have the evidence that will convict the dynamiters when we catch them," declared Detective Brown. "We know who did the job and what their names are. It has been a long, tedious task to piece out the clues and put them together so as to form a chain of evidence that would hold. I have the evidence in my possession now and it will be ready to use when the time comes."

Mrs. Belle Lavin, the San Francisco woman, still is held in the county jail and no one is allowed to see her. The officials refused to say whether they obtained information which would help them by cross-examining her.

Whatever part may have been played by Mrs. Lavin, the charge of murder against her apparently does not cause her any great worry.

British Steamer Damara Hangs On Rocks Two Weeks

San Francisco.—The British steamer Damara, after hanging on the reefs off Fort Point for almost two weeks during calm and stormy weather, has been successfully floated by the Union Iron Works representatives and proceeded up the bay. It is not known how seriously damaged the vessel is. In all probability she will be placed immediately in dry dock, where a survey of the damaged parts of the ship will be undertaken.

The Damara, bound for Grimsby, England, with one of the largest cargoes of barley ever taken out of this port, lost her way in the fog and piled up on the rocks not far from where the Alameda ran ashore. Immediately following the stranding of the steamer the underwriters took charge of the salvage work, but with the approach of stormy weather and the increase of water in the hold of the ship the work was later turned over to the local firms to pull the vessel off her rocky perch. By means of pumps and the jettisoning of considerable of the cargo the Damara finally floated at high water and later was towed up to the dry dock.

Blackmailer Escapes With Bag Under Eyes of Police

San Francisco.—The large residence of B. Katschinski in this city, which was threatened by dynamite, is being avoided by pedestrians, who take the other side of the street in passing, and who fear that perhaps the blackmailers may carry out their awful threat.

After placing the bag of washers in the spot agreed upon and the desperadoes carrying out their plans, only to get away from the clutches of the police who were waiting, it is thought that they will not trouble to appear again in the neighborhood. A witness has been found who declares that the man who carried the sack and ran from the neighborhood was laughing boisterously and seemed to regard the whole thing as a joke.

Two police officers, however, are now keeping a close guard in the neighborhood, and there is little likelihood of the plotters being able to accomplish their end even had they the nerve to do so.

Burial Indefinitely Postponed Keeps Body 5 Years

Greenville, Miss.—A son, dead five years and still a member of the family, is the remarkable condition existing in the family of A. F. Free, a fisherman who is camping on the Mississippi river twenty-five miles above this city. While the family was in the north the son died and the father was desirous of taking the body to the old home in Alabama, but not being able to pay for transportation he decided to take the body with him on his way south. After having the body embalmed Free built a boat of catapaw wood large enough to accommodate the coffin and covered it with a waterproof covering, and after placing the body on board started on his southern trip. Circumstances prevented Free from carrying out his idea for burying his son, and in his meanderings up and down the river with his family he has always kept the body with him.

SUPREME COURT CONSIDERS QUESTION "PIGS IS PIGS"

Authority for Argument in Defense of Law for Carrier Rates.

Washington.—"Pigs is Pigs," a humorous story published a few years ago, was referred to in the Supreme Court of the United States by the Government as an "authority" for its argument in defense of the constitutionality of the Hepburn rate law. This amendment makes initial carriers of interstate commerce liable for damage to or loss of freight during transportation, not only on its own line, but upon the lines of connecting carriers. It also forbids contracts releasing the initial carrier from this liability. The story of the delay in the transportation of the guinea pigs until at last the attention of all the officials of the road was required to care for the descendants of the original consignment, was cited to illustrate the public need for legislation making it easier for the shipper to recover for the loss of his property or damages inflicted upon it.

Railroad May Claim Improved Land.

Roseville.—The Southern Pacific Company has just discovered from some old Government records that they may be entitled to a strip of land about 1600 feet long and 200 feet wide on both sides of their main line of track, and have a man here at the present time making surveys with the evident intention of taking possession. That it will cause some litigation is generally believed, as some of this territory is occupied by houses. In fact, on the north the California Planing Mill Company has its complete factory within the disputed zone, while on the south the entire strip is occupied by residences, some of the homes being over twenty years old.

Old Boy Goes Across.

New York.—George Washington Wilmot, aged 92, appeared in a Brooklyn police court and had his boy, Frank Wilmot, aged 62, committed to jail as an habitual drunkard.

"What can I do for you two old gentlemen?" asked Magistrate O'Reilly. "Sir, we are not two gentlemen," said the father. "This is my son. He associates with bad companions, and is drunk most of the time. He is old enough to work, but I have to support him."

"Six months on the Island," said the magistrate.

Honor Bound to Make Restitution.

Denver.—By the terms of the will of Rufus Clark, known as "Potato" Clark, which was admitted to probate here, the United States is bequeathed $3500 because, according to the will, in 1863, Clark knew of the defrauding of the Government of an equal amount by a man whom he does not name. "The fact was never reported by me," Clark declared in his will, "and I now feel in honor bound to make restitution."

Crushed By a Trunk.

New York.—"Queen," a trick elephant, became enraged at Robert Shields, a new keeper who tried to shackle her in her winter quarters in Jersey City, and crushed him to death. The body was unrecognizable when recovered. The animal was perfectly tractable to her regular trainer a few minutes after the killing and allowed herself to be shackled without making further trouble.

Iron Dollars for Gold Pieces.

San Francisco.—The notorious Annie Picket, known far and wide as the queen of the pickpockets, is once more in prison. Annie's method is old, but clever. In the event that she succeeded in extracting three $20 gold pieces from the pocket of a victim she would invariably replace them with three silver dollars, so that it would be some time before the theft was discovered.

New Motorcycle Record Made.

Detroit.—The world's motorcycle record for one mile over a circular earth track was broken at the State Fair grounds here by Don Clark of Detroit, who, after a flying start, went the distance in 51 seconds. The record formerly was held by Fred Huyck of Chicago, whose time was 51 and three-fifths seconds.

Twins Mixed in Christening.

Oakland.—Lemuel Craigholm's twin brother, Restor Craigholm, got mixed up with him immediately after they were christened at the First Presbyterian church in this city, and now neither the Rev. Frank Goodspeed, who christened them, their father nor their mother, knows which is which.

Plenty of Cranberry Sauce.

Newark, N. J.—New Jersey is assured of a traditional Thanksgiving this year, for reports from all parts of the State show that the cranberry crop will probably be the largest ever harvested.

Geneva.—Luigi Luccheni, who assassinated the Empress of Austria in 1898, and was sentenced to prison for life, committed suicide in his cell.

Hamburg.—The small steamer Valeria, from Revel, Russia, for this port, founded in the Baltic sea. Four bodies have been washed ashore and it is supposed that the whole crew of 16 was lost.

New York.—J. Pierpont Morgan failed to register this year and consequently he will be unable to vote. The example of Morgan was followed by a number of prominent Republicans in the Murray Hill neighborhood.

Manila.—Simeon Mandac, former Governor of Ilocos Norte, who recently headed an uprising, has been sentenced to 20 years' imprisonment. He received the minimum punishment in consideration of having pleaded guilty and turned State's evidence.

Sarstedt, Prussia.—An explosion in the Siegfried potash mine caused a fire that imprisoned fifteen miners. Fifty men escaped. Fourteen bodies have been recovered. All had been mangled by falling stone. The cause of the disaster was a premature explosion of dynamite.

Washington.—Secretary Ballinger has awarded a contract for the construction of part of the earthwork of the distribution system of the Orland irrigation project at $10,738.25. The contract calls for the excavation of approximately 58,000 cubic yards before April 1st.

Cincinnati.—In the convention of the Episcopalians held here, the house of bishops repealed the canon regarding marriage and divorce that gives the clergyman latitude in marrying the innocent party to divorce. The canon now holds that divorced members of the church cannot marry.

Lansing, Mich.—Statistics compiled by Auditor-General Fuller show that there has been a startling increase of insanity in Michigan since 1892, the total number of inmates in the five asylums and the State home for the feeble-minded at the present time being 7751, as compared with 2169 eighteen years ago.

Duluth, Minn.—Fires among the brush of the surrounding forests have again sprung to life and are reported to be threatening property and lives. The people in the endangered territory are alarmed and are fighting the fires. The settlements of Twig and Pike are deserted. Many of the women are on the fire line assisting the men to fight the flames.

London.—Local announcement has been made that the first 500 milligrams of radium have been produced in England from Cornish pitch blende. A continuous supply of British radium is thus assured for the future. The total quantity of radium in existence at present is only a few grammes, and the new product is of great importance to the medical and scientific world.

Albany, Ky.—Samuel Lee, Thomas Lee and their father, John A. Lee, and James Means were arrested and lodged in jail on the charge of assassinating D. F. C. Moles, who was shot from ambush October 3 as he was riding to court to testify in the trial of Samuel Lee, who was charged with violating the revenue law. Moles was expected to be the most important witness in the prosecution.

New Orleans.—A young man giving his name as A. J. Summerfield walked into the office of the United States Marshal and announced that he had robbed the Merchants' National Bank of Lehigh, Okla., of which he was cashier, of $3500. He declared that he could stand the strain of being a fugitive no longer. He stated that he went to Lehigh a few years ago from Charles City, Iowa, and that he had left Lehigh on October 2.

New York.—Deposing two other soul mates while a magazine of her own financing is running steadily her astral being's inmost story, "My Search for a Masculine Counterpart and Ideal Companion Through the Supernatural," Miss Antoinette Reading Gazzam, the $3,000,000 heiress of Cornwall, New York, is to be married again to her sure enough, certain, positive, undoubted, honest-to-goodness affinity, Charles P. Galvin, an engineer on the New York aqueduct of no preponderant wealth.

Knees Became Stiff

Five Years of Severe Rheumatism
The cure of Henry J. Goldstein, 14 Barton Street, Boston, Mass., is another victory by Hood's Sarsaparilla. This great medicine has succeeded in many cases where others have utterly failed. Mr. Goldstein says: "I suffered from rheumatism five years, it kept me from business and caused excruciating pain. My knees would become as stiff as steel. I tried many medicines without relief, then took Hood's Sarsaparilla, soon felt much better, and now consider myself entirely cured. I recommend Hood's." Get it today in usual liquid form or chocolate tablets called Sarsatabs.

A Rain-Trap.

In a time of distressing drought, says a writer in the Yorkshire Daily Post, a harassed amateur agriculturist stepped into a shop to buy a barometer. The shopman was giving a few stereotyped instructions about indications and pressures, when the purchaser impatiently interrupted him. "Yes, yes," said he, "that's all right, but what I want to know is, how do you set the thing when you want it to rain?"

A Toast to Happiness.

Here's to happiness, the fountain of life, the builder of tissue; it never fails to dispel the blues; for it's the antidote to vapors of melancholia; it's the sun's rays piercing the cloud of darkness, the message of love of life, health and contentment; in its absence nothing can thrive; it's the soulmate, the symbol, of a clear conscience.

French Woman's Long Sleep.
A curious case is that of a woman in the hospital at Alencon, France, who has been asleep for 30 days and, unlike most patients who fall into a lethargy, this patient has a perfectly normal temperature. Her teeth are rigidly set, and she has to be fed through a tube, which was introduced with great difficulty, and has been left between her teeth.

AMERICANS GREAT READERS

Exemplification of a Well-Known National Trait Noted by a Foreign Visitor.

"Great readers, you Americans," said a foreign visitor to these shores, according to the New York Sun. "You seem to be reading all the time—newspapers or books—and you read everywhere—in public as in private, on the elevated cars, in the subway, everywhere—and I was getting quite used to seeing the manifestation of what appears to be a national habit; but I was a little surprised this morning—yes, just a little—when I saw a lady reading a newspaper as she rode up on an escalator from the sidewalk to an elevated railroad platform."

"I know the restless American energy which prompts you to the utmost economy of time, to the utilization of every minute, so that no chance for gain shall be lost; but it seems to me in my dull and stupid old-world way that there might be such a thing as overdoing this bitter economy of time, don't you know."

"In the case of the lady, reading on the escalator, for instance, I was afraid it might lead to an accident to her. It is only a short ride on an escalator, and I was afraid she might forget and fall at the top, for she seemed very intent. In fact, I couldn't tell whether she was economizing time or whether she was reading because she was so interested in what she was reading."

"But, however, she read and read intently all the way up, or until she had got three steps from the top and then she stopped and looked up, and then stepped off briskly and quite safely."

"It must take about twenty-five seconds for that escalator to carry one from the ground to the platform and she had read all but three steps, she had utilized twenty-two seconds of the time consumed on the trip and lost only three. The most remarkable exemplification I have yet seen of your characteristic economy of time and national habit of reading."

"Quite wonderful people, you Americans!"

LACK OF BUSINESS ABILITY

Leader in Municipal Art League Is Shown Where He Is Deficient by Well-to-Do Citizen.

"I suppose," said the man who was active in the Municipal Art League, "you would not think of permitting anyone to bring into your house a picture of a woman in tights."

"Of course I shouldn't," replied the well-to-do citizen.

"You are not in favor of doing anything that would have a tendency to spread immorality, either, are you? That is to say, you would not permit anybody to hang signs upon your porch advertising questionable resorts, would you?"

"Certainly not! I cannot understand why you should ask me such absurd questions."

"You see, I have just learned you are the owner of the vacant lot in the middle of the next block—the one on which there is a big billboard with a picture of an almost nude female and an advertisement of a place that the police have had to close several times during the past few months. I suppose you get paid for permitting the billboard to remain there, do you not?"

"Say, you fanatics who have this city beautiful bug make me tired. The trouble with you is that none of you have any more idea about business than a Tom cat. You'll have to excuse me now; I'm busy. Run along and see if you can't start a scare by discovering naked wall somewhere."

Thackeray's literary work did not help him much when he sought to enter the house of commons. The Rev. 'Now,' he said, laying down his knife and fork and holding up a finger, 'there was only one man among all that I went to see who had heard my name before, and he was a circulating librarian. Such is mortal fame.' That was in 1857, ten years after the publication of 'Vanity Fair.'—London Chronicle.

BLOTTER IS NEAT CALENDAR

Easily Made and One of Most Useful Articles on Young Lady's Desk—Things Needed.

One of the most useful things a girl can possibly have for her desk is a calendar blotter. How often when writing a letter does one have to stop and think what day of the month it is, and, although there may be a calendar in the desk there are surely many times when it cannot be found at the moment it is needed. And the blotting paper is often old and nearly worn out before one remembers to get a new piece. Both of these little troubles are done away with by having a calendar blotter.

The blotter can be made with either 12 sheets of blotting paper or six, according to whether its owner writes much or little, and also whether she uses up blotting paper quickly or not. There is a very great difference between people on this question. The sheets of paper may also either be large enough to nearly cover the desk, or there may be small pieces that are picked up and laid over the writing to blot it. If the large sheets are used they must be kept in a drawer of the desk at one end and one taken out as it is needed; but the small ones can be fastened together at one end, the whole pad kept on the desk and one sheet torn off when wanted.

To make the blotter all that is needed is a pad calendar, and the right quantity of blotting paper. Choose the latter by the color of the decoration of your room and the calendar size by whether your blotter is to be large or small. If there are to be 12 sheets of the paper paste one page of the calendar on the upper left-hand corner of each piece of paper. If there are to be only six pieces of paper paste the January pages of the calendar in the upper left-hand corner and the February page in the upper right-hand corner, and so on through the years.

OPEN EYES OF KANSAS GIRL

Young Lady Finally Awakens to What Her Fate Would Have Been With Stingy Man.

There was broken in Atchison recently an engagement of two years' standing between a girl and a stingy man. It was the first engagement she had ever had, and consequently the first she had ever broken, and she felt that she must follow the custom that is arbitrary at such a time and return all the gifts the young man had made her.

Search was made of the house from garret to cellar, with the result that a messenger boy next day carried to the stingy man a cook book which had been given away to advertise a baking powder, $2 which represented what he had spent on her for theater tickets, and a narrow band engagement ring, which had cost him nothing, for it had belonged to his mother.

She wrapped the articles up, with tears in her eyes, that also being an established precedent, but when the boy had gone and she had neglected no detail due the sad occasion, even watching the boy depart through blinding tears, a great light burst upon her. She saw what it would have meant to marry a man so stingy, and burst into such a loud hosanna because of her escape, that she awakened the babies three blocks away.—Atchison Globe.

Queer Death of Boy.

A curious story of how a twelve-year-old boy was accidentally hanged whilst endeavoring to bind himself in the way depicted in the drawing, "The Christian Martyr," was told at a West Ham (Eng.) inquest. The mother of the lad said that she and her husband went out one evening, leaving the boy sketching. Asked what he was sketching, the woman replied, "The Christian Martyr." "I have got it here," she said, and she handed it to the coroner. It was executed in blue crayon, and portrayed a young girl, bound with ropes to a stake in the river, and with a dagger driven through her heart. The mother added that when she returned with her husband she found the lad hanging on the bedroom door. A handkerchief was tied tightly around his neck, and slipped under it was a rope, fastened over the door to the bedpost.

Treasure From Big Tree.

An extraordinary haul was made from a Georgia tree the other day by a number of young men in Catawba county. They went into the woods to rob a "bee tree," and taking their axes began chopping on the butt of an old red oak measuring three and one-half feet in diameter. It was not a great while until they struck hollow, and to their delight as well as surprise out walked an old possum. After carefully fastening her to a split limb another raid was made, when 19 baby possums were captured. The tree was finally felled and from nearer the top they caught two pretty gray squirrels, captured a swarm of bees and gathered a quantity of honey.

Ground Covered by Million People.

It has been estimated that one million persons assembled in a crowd, with due allowance of, say, three square feet a person, would cover an area of 78.8 acres, or, to put it more conveniently, let us say 79 acres; or it could be contained in a square having sides 577.6 yards long. Or again, allowing 18 inches to each person, standing shoulder to shoulder, one million individuals would extend a distance of 284.1 miles.

The Mob.

A mob is of society of bodies voluntarily bereaving themselves of reason and traversing its work. A mob is man voluntarily descending to the nature of the beast. Its fit hour of activity is night. Its actions are insane, like its whole constitution. It persecutes a principle; it would whip a right; it would tar and feather justice, by inflicting fire and outrage upon the houses and persons of those who have these. It resembles the prank of boys who run with fire engines to put out the ruddy aurora streaming to the stars.—R. W. Emerson.

Valuable Assistance.

Children always love to have a "finger in the pie" and to help with whatever is going on. When mother or nurse does everything for them they are deprived of a great deal of pleasure and will not be so well fitted to struggle for themselves when the time comes as they would have been if they had been accustomed to do things for themselves. They should be encouraged to be useful and to assist with any preparations that may be going on.

Make Our Town More Attractive
 By J. FABLINGER

In a recent issue of the San Jose Mercury there appeared in the editorial columns an article on "General Cleaning," relating particularly to the city of San Jose. The writer asked that all of the various mens' clubs and womens' clubs and other organizations of the city join and have a part in the labors and the rewards and glory of making their city clean, sanitary and beautiful, and we congratulate them if they achieve success in this commendable innovation. It is just what every city should do.

Now we would wish it distinctly understood that we are not in any way casting any reflections on a neighboring community, for our own community sins of omission and commission are proportionately as great as those of our larger sister community.

Campbell is beautiful in its location and its surroundings, but we need to guard our heritage carefully lest we, through neglect, become a foul blot on the map.

We should take more pride in the appearance of our public school buildings, our churches and other public buildings and their immediate surroundings than we do. Our streets are often littered with dead leaves, papers, weeds and grass, as for instance, at the interurban depot, in and about the churches, and on the roads leading to and past the school houses, especially during the dry season. This litter and trash is thrown about these places by careless, thoughtless and indifferent persons. At the churches and school houses the janitors try to do something to gather it up but after three years of experience in this kind of work the writer almost feels like giving it up as a hopeless task.

Certainly we would expect that those who use church steps and horse sheds and back yards for rest and lunching places for themselves and their horses, would appreciate the privilege enough to carry off their litter with them. Some persons during the past summer ate their lunches in the Congregational church sheds and then gracefully scattered sardine and fruit cans, paper and lunch fragments about very generously for the janitor, who of course is paid for just such work, to clean up. The janitor appreciates such generosity. Another very generous thing along this line is done by those who cross the school grounds, and also the ball players who use grounds on Saturdays and Sundays. They scatter cigar stumps, tobacco and cigarette wrappers and cartons about by the score; also orange peel, candy bags, gum wrappers and what not. All this as perquisite for the janitor, for his patience, and his kindly appreciation of this opportunity to earn his salary.

And, further more, lest all this should fail to satisfy his desire of self sacrifice for the public good, and that his conscience might not trouble him when he pulls down his salary on pay day, other labors of love are bestowed on him in cleaning off the verandas and steps of the churches and the school houses where are found tobacco, both digested and undigested, smoked and unsmoked, cigar and cigarette stumps, paper wrappers, burnt matches, orange peel, apple cores and soda water bottles and other refuse, deposited by the young men who use these places for both smoking room, and astronomical observatory, while engaged in that most commendable innovation of helping to pay the nation's debt, as well as assisting the janitor in securing and holding down his job.

The park opposite the interurban railway station has been suggested as a place where those artistically inclined, and bubbling over with a desire to beautify our town, can expend their surplus energies. The park, as it is, is not very ornamental, yet a commendable initiative.

It will be necessary to find some one like Miss Jennie Biggs, of Philadelphia, to take this in hand. She, without consulting any one, decided to improve the appearance of the Stephen Girard School of that city and from a foul blot, she has made it one of the most beautiful and restful spots in the whole city.

Much can be done to make our town attractive to ourselves and it will then be attractive to visitors, if each one of us would do a little thinking. When you get your mail instead of tearing off wrappers and envelopes and throwing them on the sidewalk or in the street put them into your pocket, handbag or what not and when you get home or to your place of business they will serve very well to kindle a fire with.
 Do the same with your candy, peanut and gum wrappers, your cigar and cigarette and tobacco cartons; and, if you must smoke or chew tobacco in public, deposit the liquid as solid debris where it will not be an eyesore to the whole community and prove a disgusting mess for those whose duty it is to clean up. Remember, at all times to give every one a square deal, and to do as you would be done by, if you and the other fellow should unexpectedly change places.

In conclusion, I would call the attention of the town to some of the vacant lots covered with dried grass, weeds, and rubbish which are a standing menace to the town in case of fire. Those who have these places in charge ought to see to it that these are kept in such condition, that all danger from fire would be removed.

Some of these evils could be remedied if we would incorporate the town; others will depend for their accomplishment entirely on the public spirit of the individual citizen and property owner. I am not much of a believer in modern methods of boosting, which has selfishness at the bottom for a motive and which only means clean up the front yard.
 Healthfulness and the beauty of our surroundings should be our aim and end, which mean all this, and the backyards and vacant lots too.

California has expended millions to display her famous products in Eastern cities and abroad. Now it is proposed to bring the world to meet California. The proposed exposition in 1915 will bring many thousands of leading men to this Coast. Substantial gains in population and enhanced value of farming lands will surely follow the exposition. Vote for Senate Amendment No. 52 and Assembly
 Amendment No. 33.

The proposed exposition in 1915 to celebrate the completion of the Panama canal will stimulate every material industry in California. Every section will receive direct benefit from the investment of fifty million dollars in this State. Vote for Senate Amendment No. 52 and Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 33 in support of the exposition.

Only the citizens of San Francisco
 will have to pay for Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 33. It is merely the permission for San Francisco to bond herself for $5,000,000, but the permission must be granted by the whole State. That is why it is presented to you. San Francisco's citizens are anxious to vote those bonds,
 so vote for Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 33.

If you pay taxes on an assessment of $1000 your share of the exposition State tax will be 50 cents per year for four years. The exposition will bring millions of dollars and thousands of men and women to California. Is that worth $2 to you and to the $1000 you have ready for increase. Your $2 will make your $1000 worth $2000. Vote for Senate Constitutional Amendment
 No. 52 and Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 33.

TAX REFORM
AMENDMENT
 A Letter to the Pacific Rural Press
 by Expert on Taxation Read at Countryman's Club

The following letter was read by G. L.
 Beaver at the Countryman's Club meeting last week and as it seemed to be such an excellent statement on the subject it was suggested that it be reproduced in the Press.

To the Editor: In a letter which you refer to me for answer, one of your subscribers raises the question why, under the tax reform amendment the rates charged on the gross earnings of the different classes of corporations are not the same for all. Why, that is, railroads are to pay 4 per cent, power companies 4 per cent, telephone and telegraph companies 3½ per cent, car companies 3 per cent, and express companies 2 per cent.
 Why not all 4 per cent, or all 2 per cent?
 It is said that some people voted against the old amendment because they thought that this was unequal. As a matter of fact the rates have to be uniform in order to equal in proportion to the property used by the different classes of corporations. It is easy enough to see that the express companies use very much less property than do the railroads. So little indeed that the total taxes that they pay amount under the old system of taxation to only $15,000 while at 2 per cent of their gross receipts they will pay over $90,000.

The matter is really very simple. The aim is to make the corporations pay as nearly as may be the same amount in proportion to their property, by whatever method the taxes may be determined, as other property holders pay.

The value of any property is determined by its net income. This a farm that yields net $10 per acre is worth, at least, $100 per acre. But one that yields only $5 per acre clear is worth only half as much. The same is true of corporate property; if the risk is the same, a stock that pays 6 per cent dividends is worth twice as much as one that pays only 3 per cent.

The new taxes are to be in proportion to the gross earnings, because it has been found that these taxes are simpler and easier to administer than any other. The problem, therefore, was to find what percent of the gross earnings would be equal to 1 per cent on the true value of the property. One per cent of the true value of the property (not, of course, of the assessed value, which is anywhere from 25 to 80 per cent of the true value), is very close to the average taxes paid by property throughout the State. To solve this problem we have first to ascertain what proportion of the gross receipts are net.
 It is a fact that in each of the different lines of corporate industry there is a fairly definite ratio of net to gross earnings.
 Thus in the case of railroads, about one-third of all their receipts are net, while in the case of express companies only about one-sixth is net. So if 4 per cent is a fair rate on the railroads then 2 per cent
 would be fair for the express companies.
 The same thing can be illustrated by two farms, one yields, let us say, $50 per acre gross of which $10 is clear profit.
 The farm is worth $100 per acre (or more) and the tax should be $1 per acre, or 2 per cent of the gross receipts. Another also yields $50 per acre but only $5 clear. The latter is worth say $50 per acre and the tax at 1 per cent should be 50 cents per acre, and that is only 1 per cent of the gross receipts.

Three-fourths of the report of the tax commission for 1906 was devoted to the study of the data upon which the rates are based. Copies of this report as of the new report can be had on application to the secretary of the State Tax Commission, 2308 Warring street, Berkeley, California.

But the proof of the pudding is in the eating. If any one finds the recipe hard to follow let him content himself with the results. The new system may not be perfect, but it is infinitely better than the old one. Under the old system the best that we could do was to make the railroads pay $1,300,000 per annum, under the new they will pay $2,200,000. At the other extreme are the express companies, which now pay on their horses, wagons, and safes about $15,000 per annum, while 2 per cent of their gross receipts amounts to $90,000. In the aggregate the amendment increases the taxes of all the corporate interests over $4,000,000. Not one of them is "cinched" and not one of them can evade the new taxes. A pudding that is as good as this in the eating must have been made by a good recipe.

CARL C. PLEAN,
 Secretary of State Tax Commission, 2308 Warring Street, Berkeley.
